

Lion's Club Code of Ethics

- To show faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.
- To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.
- To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.
- Whenever a doubt arises as to the right or ethics or my position or action toward my fellow man, to resolve such doubt against myself.
- To hold friendship as an end and not a means, to hold that true friendship exists not on account of the services performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.
- Always to bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my province and my community, and to give them my unswerving loyalty in word, act and deed. To give them freely of my time, labour and means.
- To aid my fellow man by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak and my substance to the needy.
- To be careful with my criticisms and liberal with my praise, to build up and not destroy.
